

FRANKLIN IN DEFENSE OF HOLDING UP NEWS ON WRECK OF TITANIC

TESTIFIES BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE THAT HE WISHED TO AVOID UNNECESSARY ALARM.

REASSURING REPORTS

Were Sent Out While Facts Still Lacking in Admission Made.—True Reports Sent Out as soon as Received.

Washington, April 22.—Vice-President P. A. B. Franklin of the International Mercantile Marine association told the senate investigation committee today how he had asked to have the earlier reports of the Titanic disaster held up to avoid unnecessary alarm.

He denied any knowledge of the message addressed to Representative Hughes of West Virginia about the ship being towed to Halifax and gave other details.

Crowd at Hearing. The inquiry christened the luxurious cruise ship of the company, regarded perhaps as the handsomest was returning, the position not being given. Mr. Franklin said he did not know anything about the workings of the wireless on ships of the line—they were really only agents in America. He then told about the capacity of the Titanic, which, he said, was one million, five hundred thousand and some odd pounds. He said the Titanic could accommodate about two thousand, five hundred passengers—seven hundred and fifty first class passengers, five hundred second class passengers and twelve hundred third class passengers.

Mr. Franklin acknowledged receiving a telegram from Mr. Bunnay asking that the steamer Carpathia be held because the sender considered "it most desirable" that the members of the crew be sent back on the Carpathia, and declaring his intention of sailing on that ship himself.

The message was answered by Mr. Franklin to the effect that it was considered most unwise to delay the Carpathia considering the circumstances.

CABLE-SHIP MACKAY-BENNETT WIRES THAT HEAVY SQUALL INTERFERES WITH OPERATIONS.

CAPTAIN GAVE ORDERS

Peruvian on ill-fated Titanic Declares That Had Captain Smith Deen Obeyed More Would Have Been Saved.

New York, April 22.—The White Star line announced this afternoon that it had already received the following wireless message from the cable-ship Mackay-Bennett which is on the scene of the Titanic searching for bodies: "Heavy southwest squall has interfered with operations. Fifty bodies recovered. All not embalmed will be buried at sea at 8 p. m. with divine services. Can only bring embalmed bodies to port."

Carried by Gulf Stream. "The steamer Rhein reported to the White Star by wireless that wreckage and bodies were passed in 42-01 latitude, 49-13 longitude and that the Mackay-Bennett was heading for that position. This message indicates that the Gulf Stream is carrying the bodies and wreckage 50 miles east of where the Titanic sank."

The survivors who were taken to hospital on their arrival here on the Carpathia are now practically all recovered and many of them have left for their homes. Relief societies have gathered funds aggregating more than a quarter of a million dollars and the relief committee has been swamped with clothing. Not only that, but countless letters were received all offering assistance of every sort.

Against Captain's Orders. That many of the life boats of the Titanic were sent away only half filled and that if Captain Smith's orders had been obeyed many more lives would have been saved, has been disclosed by Peter J. Daly, of Lima, Peru, a first cabin survivor.

Daly states that he saw the captain rush to the railing after the boats had put out from the sinking ship and call "Bring those boats back. They are only half filled."

How many boats obeyed order to return Mr. Daly was unable to tell. To "Beat All Records." John Thompson, a steward of the Titanic suffering with a broken arm at St. Vincent's hospital may be an important witness in the senatorial investigation into the wreck at Washington. Thompson comes from Liverpool and he asserts that the Titanic was out to "beat all records on maiden trips."

"From Queensdown out" Thompson is quoted as saying, "All the firemen had been talking of the orders we had to fire her up as hard as we possibly could. We were to make as quick a passage as possible, the orders ran. I heard that those orders came from the engineering department."

"We were carrying full pressure from the time we left Queensdown until the moment of the shock we never ceased to make from 71 to 75 revolutions. During that whole Sunday we had been keeping up to 77."

NORTHWESTERN LAUNDRYMEN MEETING IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Attribute Rapid Wearing of Collars And Shirts to Adulteration of Fabrics.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—In the adulteration of the fabrics by the makers, not in the methods of the laundrymen, is to be found the cause for the rapid wearing out of the collars and shirts, according to the opinion of the Northwestern Laundrymen's Association, which began its annual convention at the West hotel in this city today. The convention is attended by members from many cities and towns in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota. In addition to the laundrymen there are present representatives from every industry connected with the laundry business.

STEAMERS COLLIDE OFF CAPE HATTERAS IN HEAVY WEATHER

Two Passenger Steamers Crash Together but Little Damage is Done and no Lives Lost.

Norfolk, Va., April 22.—The steamer City of Merchants and the Savannah line, bound from Jacksonville and Savannah to Baltimore, making her way slowly up the coast, seriously damaged above the water line as the result of a collision during the thick weather early today off Hatteras, with the Clyde line steamer Troquois from New York to Charleston and Jacksonville.

The Savannah line steamer City of Montgomery was standing by the City of Merchants to give assistance if needed. Both steamers carried passengers.

No Serious Damage. Baltimore, April 22.—Wireless advice to the Merchants' and Miners' line of steamships here are to the effect that neither the City of Merchants nor the Troquois which were in collision early today, are seriously damaged. The City of Merchants was not looking and is proceeding to Baltimore unassisted, having notified the steamer City of Montgomery, which stood by for a time, that no aid was required.

No Details Yet. Charleston, S. C., April 22.—The wireless station here was speaking this morning with the Clyde steamer Troquois but no details of the collision with the City of Merchants were given. The Troquois reports herself all right and said she would dock at 7:00 o'clock tonight. The station expects other reports.

FAVORS TRADE BODY TO AID GOVERNMENT

Secretary Nagel Declares National Organization Would be of Great Value in Many Problems.

Washington, April 22.—Secretary Nagel today outlining the purpose of the commercial conference called here by President Taft to form a national chamber of commerce made an urgent plea for a permanent representative trade body to assist the federal government in solving the economic problems pressing for settlement.

Unless the government meets these demands along the lines of progress and development, Secretary Nagel forewarns a conflict with business. So pressing are the problems the secretary declared that if the government agencies did not find the solution the commercial and industrial forces would compel that solution in one form or another.

"The conflict is irrepressible, he added. 'If the government does not find an established rule by which the development may be intelligently and normally had then ultimately the extension and progress will be had in defiance of rules that do not fit. That has been the story and that will be the story of development everywhere.'"

WOULD PUT STOP TO SENSATIONAL TALK

State Department Endeavors to Put an End to Continual Rumors of Intervention in Mexico.

Washington, April 22.—The state department endeavored today to put a stop to what it regards as inflammatory and sensational talk of the government's purpose to intervene in Mexico by declaring that the reports of the American consular officers in that country reiterated that whereas there is not one reason for military intervention, there are countless strong reasons why there should be no military intervention. Secretary of State Knox declared that while the president had under consideration the question of dispatching a vessel to the west coast of Mexico to look into the safety of American residents there, it did not necessarily mean that a war ship would make the trip.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS SWEPT BY TORNADO; THIRTY-FIVE DEAD

REPORTS TODAY FROM STORM DEVASTATED REGION GIVE LARGER NUMBER OF DEATHS.

SCORES ARE INJURED

Entire Families Crushed in Their Homes—Damage to Property Will Reach into Hundreds of Thousands—Wires Are Down.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, April 22.—The tornado which late yesterday swept over Central Illinois and Northwestern Indiana killed at least thirty-five persons and injured nearly two hundred others, according to advices received here today.

Miles of telegraph and telephone wires are down and farm houses demolished in the path of the storm and it is probable that the death list will be increased when communication is restored with all parts over which the tornado passed. While no definite estimate has been made of the damage done by the storm it is certain to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Eighteen are Killed. At Bush, a village in Williamson county, the greatest loss of life occurred. Eighteen persons were killed at this place and more than thirty injured. Nearly every dwelling in the village was destroyed or damaged. Most of the dead were foreigners, who worked in the coal mines near Bush.

At Moroco, Indiana, nine persons lost their lives by being crushed in the collapse of their houses. At Grant Park, Illinois, half a dozen persons were injured and damage amounting to more than $100,000 was caused by the tornado.

Family Wiped Out. The family of Nelson Hubbs of Tamm, a village near Toddle, was at most wiped out. Hubbs, his wife and daughter were killed and two children severely injured. Telephone and telegraph traffic has been severely interfered with on account of the loss of poles.

The loss of life in towns which are in communication with the outside world followed as Bush, 18 dead; 40 injured; Williamson, 2 dead; 40 injured; Tamm, 2 dead; 4 injured; Moroco, 2 dead; 12 injured.

News From St. Louis. St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—Reports received here early this morning from towns in the storm swept territory of southwestern Illinois, telling of twenty-three deaths and one hundred injured and thousands of dollars damage to property including wire and rail traffic.

Fifteen persons were killed at Bush, a village of six hundred, in northwestern Indiana, corner of Williamson county and three who were injured died after being taken to hospital at Murphysboro.

Thirty one injured persons were taken to Murphysboro on a special train, the crew of which said only a small portion of the town had been searched and that more dead would probably be found when the search was renewed by daylight.

Railway Shops Destroyed. The St. Louis Iron Mountain and Southern Railway shop at Bush was demolished and many residences destroyed.

Five persons are known to be dead and twenty-one injured at Willowville, a town of 5,000, in the southwestern corner of Perry county. Four persons injured, one probably fatally.

A heavy loss of life is reported at Danvers and residents of the stricken country declare there were two distinct storms one at 5:30 and the other shortly before 7:00 o'clock.

Deaths at Kankakee. Kankakee, April 22.—Mrs. David Jay, who, with several friends, was returning from Kankakee, Sunday night, to her home eight miles west of the city, was killed by the tornado and others in the party were seriously injured. When the storm broke they took refuge in a deserted stone house, about five miles from Kankakee. The wind tore off the roof of the building and threw down some of the walls. Mrs. Jay was instantly killed by a heavy timber. Mrs. Robert Hawkins, mother of Mrs. Jay, was buried under fragments of the house. Several ribs were broken and one punctured her lungs. Physicians say she is fatally injured.

Damage to Farms. A young son of George Scher, also in the party, suffered a severe skull wound and all of those who sought shelter in the stone house were more or less bruised.

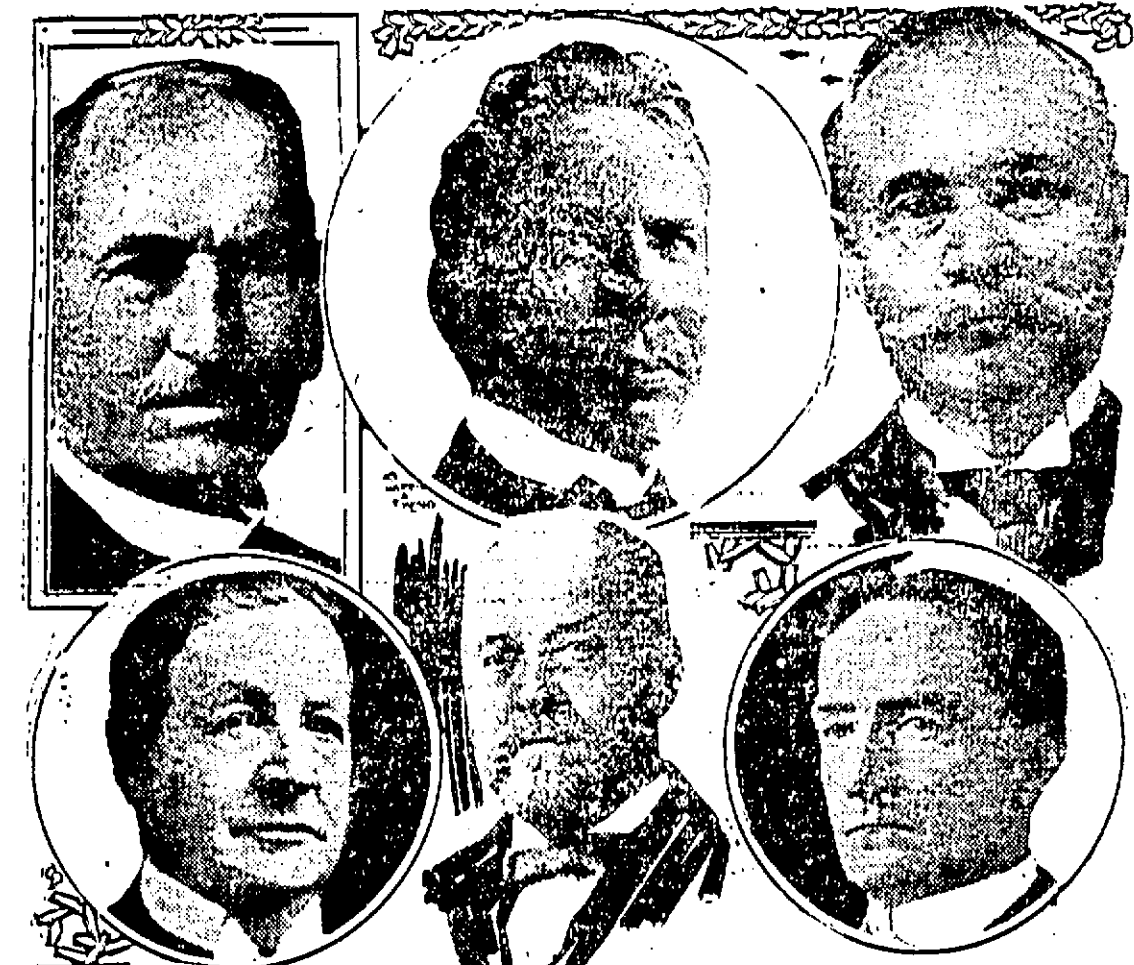

Reports of damage to farms and the loss of much live stock throughout the path of the wind storm are pouring into the city. Communication with Grant Park is cut off and rumors of loss of life there are heard.

Mrs. Frank Brackton, wife of a farmer, was seriously injured when their home was wrecked.

Damage at Racine. Racine, April 22.—Telephone advices this morning report that late Sunday afternoon a cyclone swept over a section of Dover township, fifteen miles from here, destroying several barns, and killing horses and cattle. The wind-storm was followed by a terrific hail-storm.

Alabama Cyclone. Birmingham, Ala., April 22.—A cyclone swept Adamsville, Hucklebury City, Junction, Brookside, and several other mining towns in this district between four and five this morning. Incomplete reports say twenty or fifteen persons were killed and a number hurt. Twenty houses were destroyed at Brookside.

Investigations of the Titanic disaster have been started by the United States senate and British house of commons. They will be thorough. The senate investigating committee is composed of William Alden Smith, of Michigan, chairman; Theodore Burton, of Ohio; Duncan H. Fletcher, of Florida; George C. Perkins, of California; Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada; Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon; and F. M. Simmons, of North Carolina.

Among them were senators, representatives and their wives, Baron Hengenholler, the Austrian ambassador, and other representatives of diplomatic and official circles, newspaper correspondents and a large number of women, mostly drawn from the national gathering of the D. A. R. The hearing overshadowed all other congressional proceedings.

Statements Without Fact. After denying that officials of the White Star line had any knowledge of a subsiding telegram to Mr. Hughes, it was acknowledged by Mr. Franklin that he had issued reassuring statements when he had no facts on which to base them.

Mr. Franklin was the first witness. The witness read from a great sheet of wireless telegrams received Monday morning. None of them contained any information of value, but it was upon this data that the line based its statement in an effort, Mr. Franklin said, to reassure inquiries.

Later when the news came he said he immediately sent for the reporters and proceeded to begin reading to them the lengthy Marconigrams from the Carpathia giving the gruesome news in considerable detail.

"I began to read," said Mr. Franklin, "and then I looked up. There was a reporter in the room. They were all racing for phones to get the news out to the world."

During the course of his examination Mr. Franklin told of business operations and the extent of the international mercantile marine association. He had known Captain Smith of the Titanic ever since 1898, and said that the captain had commanded several other ocean liners before taking charge of the Titanic.

Asked when he first knew that the Titanic had sunk, Franklin said he knew first at 6:27 Monday evening. Between noon and one o'clock on Monday he received a message from the Olympic which told that the steamer Carpathia reported the Carpathia in attendance had picked up twenty boats with passengers and the Baltic

OATMEAL CURE FOR DIABETES.
Prof. Von Noorden, Viennese authority on nutrition, reports that only 65 of 310 diabetic patients were not benefited by the oatmeal cure, which he originated and which has been generally adopted. This oatmeal diet is occasionally varied by a day on green vegetables, which provides rest for the digestive functions, largely. This, Von Noorden says, is equivalent to a fast, as the digestion of green vegetables relieves the organism concerned in the digestion of starches and sugars, which is at fault in diabetes. Much progress is being made in the direction of adopting the mono-diet principle in the treatment of disease.

LESSONS FROM THE WRECK OF TITANIC

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR VICTIMS HELD AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING.

EULOGIZED OPERATOR

Who Stood Faithfully at His Post Until Last—Blame for Wreck Laid on Public's Demands for Luxuries in Place of Safety Devices.

Speaking on the subject, "The Loss of a Little World"—lessons from the wreck of the steamship Titanic—in his sermon at the morning services at the Congregational church Sunday, Dr. David Houston, pastor of the church, eulogized the heroism of Wireless Operator Phillips of the Titanic, who had been on duty at his post until the water came to his waist, and would not leave his post to get a life belt. Of him it can be truly said, he saved others; himself he could not save. "There is a deep-seated superstition in the human mind that death is a judgment of God, but we have no right on our part to pronounce judgment on any one connected with the recent tragedy. I have in sacred memory those who passed in judgment so recently. This sacrifice of human lives, involved in the wreck of the Titanic has shocked our moral sense. If anything has been added to our sorrow for the victims of the disaster, it is the sense of human helplessness in the face of the elements. Now this has come within two weeks of the triumph of the ship-building architects over the problems of the sea. The masterpiece of marine architecture has leaped under the ocean. This touches so near the practical interests of life, and brings us face to face with the stern fact of nature. We are grateful that the tragedy furnishes instances of heroism, self-control, bravery and gallantry which seem to redeem it from the scandalous and the carelessness shown in caring for human lives. We should learn from this how we may discharge our duty in the supreme hour of need.

"Those of you who have sailed the ocean, or have studied the map, perhaps know of the triangular piece of the ocean between Cape Race, St. John's and Nova Scotia, which is called the 'Graveyard of the Atlantic' the dread of all seamen. In the old days of the sailing ships, it was always desirable to make the trip as short as possible. 'Shaving the Cape' was the term used to designate sailing as near as possible to Cape Race and not running in the lee of the wind. It was a dangerous thing to do, for there are dangers brought about by natural forces. For five or six years I made my home in that part of the country and I know that in addition to the dangers of being wrecked on the coast there are dangers predicted by great forces. These forces are caused by the meeting of the warm current of the Gulf stream with the cold, icy water of the Labrador Current, coming down from the North Pole. These two currents meet over what is called the Grand Banks. "These are the terrible dangers produced by natural causes—the iceberg and the fog. The icebergs are the greater to the steamships because they appear at unknown times and at unknown places. Generally there are none later than July, and in the region where the Titanic was wrecked they usually appear in May or June. The icebergs, one of which was responsible for the wreck of the great steamship, had appeared ahead of time.

"It seems as if the ambition of the navigator and owner and the eager desire of the public to get a short passage did not seem to reckon with Nature. The individual's ambitions and fancies are nothing to Nature and Nature is decided to obey her laws. There is no ship built, nor can one be built, no mechanical device of man capable of defying Nature. If there is anything that can be added from the natural conditions of the place where the ill-fated ship was, it is that the demand of the public and perhaps the unauthorized command of the owner, was perhaps the cause of the disaster. There is no denying the fact that the shipmaster is in supreme command of the high seas, yet it is well known that any captain is subject to the directions of the directors of the company which employs him. There is no more world than those sea captains, and that a man like Captain Edward Smith was running twenty-four hours in the face of the knowledge he had of icebergs and other dangers, is inconceivable, unless he had commands from someone higher in authority.

"There is only one question of importance to the public—that is, how far should the laws allow companies to sacrifice the safety of the passengers and crews to the demands of the public, and that any common carriers are not to be allowed to surrender to the desires of the public. "Another fact to be considered is that the sense of security of the crew and passengers, and the belief that the ship could not sink, was responsible for the loss of many lives. Captain Houston of the Carpathia, which rescued those in the life boats from the Titanic in answer to ques-

TRY EVICTION CASE IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Judge Fitch Hears Testimony in Case of J. W. Peters Versus F. and W. Croak and Carl Helse.

Testimony in the case of J. W. Peters versus Frank P. and William Croak and Carl Helse was heard in the municipal court this morning. Attorney Charles E. Pierce appeared for the plaintiff, and M. O. Mount for the defendant. This suit was brought by Mr. Peters to compel Messrs. Croak and Helse to vacate the premises now occupied by them, known as the old "American House," on West Milwaukee street. Mr. Peters alleges in his complaint that the defendants have been in possession of the premises for some time, and that they have refused to vacate the same. Among those called to the stand and sworn were Chief of the Fire Department (Kline), Assistant Chief Cornelius Murphy, Otto and Henry Kronitz, owners of the building previous to its sale to Mr. Peters, Henry A. Mosser, E. E. Van Pool, Carl Helse, Frank Croak and John W. Peters. Included in the exhibits received were the original lease, notices to vacate dated August 3, and October 17, 1911.

Chief Kline and Assistant Chief Murphy were asked for information concerning the fire in the American House a year ago last June, which was owned by Kronitz brothers. Both testified that the fire had originated on the fourth floor and penetrated through to the third and fifth floors and ceilings. There were two foremen on the floor who were under the influence of liquor and a large amount of debris on the floor. They had observed no small of gasoline though there were old stoves there. Otto Kronitz testified that he and his brother Henry owned the building from December, 1910, until June, 1911, selling it immediately after the fire to Mr. Peters. He did not know that any homekeeping was being done in the building, though he admitted selling most of the furniture and a number of Belgians who occupied rooms on the fourth floor. He did not go up there after the fire for the reason that Mr. Helse wanted no one to enter the rooms until money lost by the defendants had been accounted for. Mr. Mosser admitted writing the insurance policy on the American House which was in force at the time of the fire. He found a great deal of debris on the top floor—broken chairs, old stoves, sacks of coal, etc. After that time he refused to comment to the occupancy of that floor by any tenant. His tenants, the defendants, he said, made no repairs to the building and had not repaid the cash either from the inside or outside of the building. He admitted that his action was brought to secure payment for rent after serving notice to vacate on them.

E. E. Van Pool, who adjusted the fire loss for the Kronitz brothers, William Ford and Carl Helse, were called to the stand, but presented little additional information as to the condition of the building.

TRY EVICTION CASE IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Judge Fitch Hears Testimony in Case of J. W. Peters Versus F. and W. Croak and Carl Helse.

Testimony in the case of J. W. Peters versus Frank P. and William Croak and Carl Helse was heard in the municipal court this morning. Attorney Charles E. Pierce appeared for the plaintiff, and M. O. Mount for the defendant. This suit was brought by Mr. Peters to compel Messrs. Croak and Helse to vacate the premises now occupied by them, known as the old "American House," on West Milwaukee street. Mr. Peters alleges in his complaint that the defendants have been in possession of the premises for some time, and that they have refused to vacate the same. MRS. SHEPHERD GAVE EXCELLENT ADDRESS

W. C. T. U. Lecturer Delivers Strong Address on Four Great Evils of the Day. Mrs. Lulu L. Shepherd, lecturer for the W. C. T. U., gave a splendid sermon on "Sowing and Reaping" at the Carpenters M. E. church yesterday morning, and in the evening simply outdid herself in the address she gave in her own eloquent manner, on the "Four Great Evils," as entitled today, viz., "Gambling," "Sabbath-breaking," "Intemperance," and "The Liquor Traffic." She had a good audience in the morning and the Presbyterian church was filled to the doors in the evening with an appreciative audience. She is a fine, clear speaker, has a very pleasing presence, and gave a great many personal experiences she has had in her work as lecturer on these questions.

CYCLONE DESTROYED PROPERTY SUNDAY

Second Cyclone Blazed Northeast of City and Passed Down Many Barns—No One Hurt.

Another cyclone which left a path behind it strewn with demolished sheds and barns, uprooted trees, and razed fences, narrowly missed the city yesterday morning at seven thirty, when it passed just southeast of town traveling in the direction of Avalon, in Walworth county.

On the farm of J. J. Rooney situated about a mile and a half east of the city on the Racine street road two large sheds were blown down, a large stretch of fence was carried away, and posts being pulled entirely out of the ground, and a number of large trees were broken off.

Fortunately the wind did not hit the houses and no one was hurt. One shed 121 by 128 feet was totally demolished and some machinery stored in it was destroyed. Another large shed of almost equal size was about two thirds blown down. Some of the stock was injured in any way and the damage was confined almost entirely to the buildings mentioned.

The direction of the blow seemed to be southeast coming from north of this city and going toward Avalon leaving a trail of demolished sheds and torn up fences in its wake.

SPECIAL INTEREST IN SPEECH TONIGHT

Miss Julia C. Lathrop Will Treat Some of the Women's Suffrage Problems at Presbyterian Church.

Citizens of Janesville, men and women, are alike interested in the address which will be given by Miss Julia C. Lathrop on the subject of Suffrage at the Presbyterian church this evening under the auspices of the local woman's suffrage organization.

Especially the people who are skeptical as regards the matter of women voting are urged to hear what Miss Lathrop has to say. She is a speaker who possesses a rare tact and ability in presenting her subject and who never fails to command respect and attention even among those who are not convinced to her arguments.

The opportunity of hearing Miss Lathrop will undoubtedly be taken by a large number, especially men, who will have to vote "Yes" or "No" on woman's suffrage this fall.

Literature at Library. The public library has some envelopes of literature on suffrage which are to be circulated as books. They contain concise arguments, statistics and witty pleas for woman's suffrage. There is a suffrage bulletin in the reading room on which will be posted references to current magazine articles on this question. There is a rack of literature for free distribution at the loan desk. This library authorities are making every effort to meet the demand of the public for information on woman suffrage.

"YOU CAN'T MAKE SUGAR OUT OF A PIG'S TAIL," SAYS FINK TO FELIX.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS by DAN McCARTY

Surprising, but it looks as though the United States League might start its season May 1 after all.

"We didn't expect it. Nobody did, who knows the obstacles that lie in the path of anybody who tries, even in humble fashion, to sidetrack any of the shuffles that are now finding their way into the National and American league box offices. But the franchise holders of the new circuit seem to be blessed with an abundant supply of nerve."

"We not only are going to start the season the first of May," says William Nelsen, owner of the Chicago franchise, "but we're going to play out our entire schedule of 128 games. Just stick a pin in that prediction and see if I'm right."

Nelsen is owner of the Gunthers, the crack semi-pro team that won the Chicago city championship the last two seasons. They have attracted monster crowds to their games in the past, and he, at least, is very optimistic concerning the prospects of the new league. In Cleveland, Jack O'Connor, former manager of the St. Louis Browns, is getting together a team that looks mighty good. A contract has been let for a new grandstand to seat 5,000 people. Deacon Phillips, for many years a pitcher with the Pirates, is to manage Pittsburgh's team. George Brown, ex-champion of Cuba, is Washington manager. Bert Keady, Chicago, E. C. Langstaff, Richmond; Hugh McKennon, Cincinnati; Leo Groom, Reading; and William Jordan, New York.

The plan is to play twenty-five cent ball. That ought to help swell the receipts.

Willie Lewis is going over to Paris to fight George Carpenter, French middleweight champion, for the job. Sounds complex, but it's a fact. Dan McKelrick, Willie's manager, is taking him across, and Dan says frankly that if the Frenchman hangs it on his man, he's going to ditch Willie and bring Carpenter back to America with him. They're crazy over here to see the Frenchman in action. Ever since he stretched Jim Sullivan, the Briton, out in the arena at Monte Carlo, there has been a firm belief on that side of the pond and this that he'll be a champion. In this 19-year-old boy, a fighter who is bound to cut off the highest honors in his class before he gets much older. They say he can hit like a mule kicking.

"If he trims Lewis," says Tom McCarty, flake impresario of Los Angeles, "he can get a nice fat purse out of me and name his own opponent."

The inability of C. M. Daniels of the New York Athletic club, America's greatest all-around swimmer, to compete in the Olympic games at Stockholm in July, is likely to deal a death blow to this country's chances of winning the relay race. The speedy four from Australia may now be counted upon to defeat the American team, and there is danger, too, that Germany, and possibly England, may lead it home.

Jack Glasscock, has come back. He is doing great work for Billy Sunday's team in the Spiritual league.

Williams and Walker form a cannon song battery for Washington. Fans are hoping that they may eventually give the Senators that mysterious tag.

THE THEATERS

"MUTT and JEFF."

The announcement of a new Gas Hill production is always sure to create unusual interest. In this particular instance Mr. Hill has outdone all his previous efforts in the theatrical way by giving the public something new. The name of the attraction which will hold the boards at Myers Theatre Saturday April 27, matinee and evening is "Mutt and Jeff" and is founded on the famous cartoons by Bud Fisher. "Mutt and Jeff" figure in a three act musical comedy and their escapades and adventures form the basis of an interesting and engrossing entertainment. Surrounded by a capable supporting company, excellent scenic and mechanical effects and a beauty chorus of acknowledged supremacy, the "two funny fellows" have plenty of opportunity to dominate, and they do so to the queen's taste. As in the original comic "Jeff" is the bluffer. He is subservient to the whims, caprices and wiles of the ever scheming "A. Mutt" who besides being a soldier of fortune is a plotter of mischief. "Jeff" gets the worst of the bargain, naturally, but while ignorance is bliss in his case his antics are not without some particular interest. At any rate the twin excite laughter and the mission of the author is therefore fully sustained. The production is on the pretentious, ambitious order. The costumes are gorgeous and the other details compare favorably with any theatrical vehicle presented heretofore. This season, for that matter fun is rampant from curtain to curtain. There is a plot and a plausible one too. In its development there is a tinge of the dramatic, which lends rather to enhance than detract from the value of the show. The music, and there are fourteen numbers, ensembles, etc., is original. It is a play for the masses as well as the classes and as it was written simply to amuse and entertain, and succeeds, it's future is not shrouded in doubt. If you are in search of real fun, provided by proficient actors, comedians and singers, the latest offering should fill the bill. Gloom has no chance in its ranks so those who attend ought to have a gala time. There will be no increase in the prices and the usual matinee will be given.

Famous Characters, Mutt and Jeff, at Myers Theatre, Saturday, April 27, Matinee and Evening.

WISCONSIN CREW IS HEAVIEST IN YEARS

Additional Strength and Power Will Be Result of Increased Avir-dupis on Part of Boatmen.

Madison, Wis., April 22.—Wisconsin will be represented at the Poughkeepsie regatta in June by one of the heaviest crews that has ever won the cardinal. Captain Pollock's men average one hundred and seventy-five pounds as against an average of one hundred and sixty-seven pounds last year and one hundred and sixty-six in 1910. This average will, of course, be reduced considerably when the men get to working in a hot sun for an hour or two each day, but they will probably weigh in at one hundred and seventy pounds on the day of the race. The heaviest crew at Poughkeepsie last year was Pennsylvania, averaging one hundred and sixty-eight pounds.

The weight will be a great advantage from the standpoint of strength and power in the boat, but will be a handicap to Coach Vail in training the crew on Lake Mendota this spring. A heavy crew must be trained to pull in perfect rhythm and to catch the stroke quickly and absolutely at the same second.

The late spring has seriously retarded progress with the oarsmen, and now that the ice has gone entirely from the lake, brisk April breezes threaten to keep Mendota in such a choppy condition that rowing conditions will be far from favorable. A boathouse will be erected on Lake Monona, however, and the crew will be able to get on the water every day.

There are four veterans in the varsity boat—Captain Pollock at No. 6, where he distinguished himself last year; Stobson at No. 3, his seat last year; Mackmiller at No. 5, and Tucker, stroke, his position last year. Captain Pollock has the unique distinction of having won his varsity letter before the end of his first year in the university and of being the first man to hold the captaincy of the crew in his second year. Pollock was reared on the plains of North Dakota where racing shells are unknown and he never had an oar in his hand until last spring. His football experience, however, gave him powerful muscles which readily adapted themselves to rowing and he proved to be one of the strongest men in the varsity eight. After he broke his leg in the Iowa football game last fall, the bone knit perfectly and does not bother him at all in rowing.

WELLS AND McFARLAND TO FIGHT TEN ROUND BOUT.

Match Next Friday Night at Garden Athletic Club Will Be Principal Sporting Event of Week.

New York, April 22.—The ten-round bout between Matt Wells, the English champion, and Puckey McFarland of Chicago at the new Garden Athletic Club next Friday night, is the big event of the week for local boxing enthusiasts. Efforts to bring Wells and McFarland together in the ring have been making for a long time. They have agreed to make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest. Wells is to get 50 per cent of the gross gate and moving picture receipts, of which sum McFarland is to receive $10,000 for his share. The fight will be the first pulled off under the auspices of the Garden Athletic Club, which has taken a year's lease of Madison Square garden.

Astronomical Discovery.

One of the greatest discoveries of science is due to observation of the eclipses of Jupiter's moons. It was found that when the earth was in the part of its orbit nearest to Jupiter these eclipses occurred sixteen minutes earlier than when it was in the farthestmost part; whereas by all rules of astronomy they should have occurred at the same minute each time. It was deduced from this that light was not instantaneous, and consequently took sixteen minutes to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit, a distance of about two hundred million miles, thus giving to light a velocity of one hundred and eighty-six thousand miles a second, which was accurately shown later by other experiments.

CHIEF OF POLICE APPLEBY IS-SUES REGULATIONS RELAT-IVE TO HOURS FOR CLOSING SALOONS.

ORDER IS STRINGENT

Will Be Backed by the Commission—
New Ordinance Is Projected —First Arrest Made.

According to Chief of Police Appleby, the "Ball Has Opened." In an official statement, published below, the chief of police gives full warning to all retail liquor dealers what is what as to the observance of the laws relative to Sunday closing and keeping open after hours. It is a plain statement and one that brooks of no misunderstanding as to what offenders against the law can expect if caught violating.

The following is the official announcement of Chief of Police George
M. Appleby:

"The ball has opened. The commission has instructed me to stop the sale of liquor after hours and on Sundays and I am going to do it, if possible, and that means every saloon in the city. No pets.

"Every officer must do his duty or answer to the Fire and Police board.
I want to say to the saloon proprietors of Janesville that they have no kick coming. If they buy a ticket to Madison they should not get mad if the conductor refuses to take them to St. Paul on it.

"During the past week I visited the pool room proprietors and insisted that there must be no more of minors playing pool or billiards and they promised to keep them out. If they do, all well and good; if not, they must answer in court for all violations and I mean business.

"As regards the speeding of autos on the streets, I would state that I worked nearly all day Sunday and could not do much to stop this violation. When I was near the cars they stopped speeding. However, I have no doubt that the commission will give me permission to put an officer on a motorcycle and then we will be able to bring the violators into court and fine them for their fast and careless driving."

Chief Appleby evidently means what he says regarding the closing hours and several of the retail liquor men have expressed themselves as satisfied with the ruling providing it affects all and not a favored few.

"You see what I said about pets,"
this statement. "Well, I mean that —every word of it. If one closes they all close and it will be enforced if we can do it."

The first step in this direction was on the complaint of Chief of Police Appleby, on which a warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of the proprietor of the Myers hotel and bar, charging an alleged violation of the Sunday closing ordinance yesterday. Thomas Nolan, attorney for the defendant, appeared in the municipal court on their behalf, and entered a plea of "not guilty." City Attorney William H. Dougherty appeared for the prosecution and on his motion and with the consent of the defendant's attorney the trial was set for Monday morning, April 23.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

IT IS a very common thing for people to regulate their table diet in one way or another. One person tries to eat things that will make him fatter; another endeavors to select a bill of fare which will reduce his weight; an athlete eats muscle building foods, and so on.

Now, since we know the beneficial effects of regulation in this direction, is it not strange that we do not more often regulate our diet in other things besides food—friends, for instance?

A young girl came home in a very unhappy mood from visiting some friends, who, although good hearted people, are most emphatically, of the earth, earthy. They think of little besides clothes and opportunities to display them, and they spend all they can afford and a little more on keeping up appearances. Their visitor is a girl with a very limited income but she has always managed to pay her bills, dress herself attractively, and be quite content. In the visit seemed to have entirely changed her. She is discontented with her home, critical of her friends, recklessly extravagant in her purchases, and frolics with the expense things which she can not possibly afford. Says her mother, "Gertrude shall never visit those people again if I can help it."

If we will stop to think, we will all realize that our various friends have varying and very distinctive effects upon us.

There are those who always turn our attention towards clothes. We talk clothes with them, looking at their new things, tell them about ours and come home thinking of nothing but clothes and fashions and appearances.

We have other friends who stimulate us intellectually; they are reading and studying, they are interested in the topics of the day, they are trying to solve some corner of the world's problem, and contact with them soon makes us think that such things are really worth while after all.

Again we have friends who always send us away feeling mightily pleased with ourselves; and others who make us thoroughly ashamed of our ineptness. We have friends whose strenuous temperaments galvanize us into the desire for constant action; and others who impart some of their own serenity and patience to us. We have friends who curb us with their thoughtful conversation, and others from whom we take the contagion of their careless optimism.

The man who has a sluggish liver will probably know enough to avoid rich and clogging foods even if he likes them. And yet how many of us, when we feel as if we wanted the pounce of flattery for some bump or bruise on our self love, know enough to avoid those who will give it to us? How many of us when all alone with some radical scheme are wise enough to go to the conservative friend for criticism, instead of to the radical for encouragement?

To regulate one's diet of victuals is hard enough; to regulate one's diet of friends would be even more difficult; for the man or woman who wants a healthy mind and soul, as well as a healthy stomach, it would certainly be worth while.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

Earning Money at Home

NOW that outdoor living is becoming so popular, many a woman who wishes to earn money at home, might, by providing for the needs of the outdoor people, add quite a little to her income.

Outdoor living in its various forms is a new departure, and requires many things that we do not use in our ordinary manner of living. Many women do not even know what is needed; others, even though they know, cannot make the necessary articles. If now, a woman would perfect herself on the subject, become an expert, as it were, her advice would be sought and her more material aids would be in demand.

Outdoor sleeping is becoming more and more popular. Even those who are not invalids are taking to sleeping outdoors, its effects are so beneficial. But outdoor sleeping requires quite different night-garments from those for indoor rest. And the woman who would carefully study what is needed, and then take orders for the garments, could no doubt earn quite a good sum of money for herself.

The person who sleeps outdoors, especially in cold weather, needs a warm covering for the head. Not any old cap or soft hat will do. The head must be properly protected all over, and the covering must be so made as not to slip off.

Then, there must be light-weight but warm garments that will thoroughly cover the whole person. Many like sleeping bags, light-weight ones for summer, and heavier ones for winter.

All these things need careful study and planning and looking into, to see what has been done and what has been used by those who are experienced. And this many who wish to sleep outdoors have not time or facilities to do. And the woman who would become an expert in the matter, and who would make the garments to order could, no doubt, soon build up for herself a good business.

Then the question of how to arrange to sleep outdoors is another big subject. Some people have very little facilities for it. They must utilize the roof, or a tiny porch, or perhaps make some arrangement at a window. To be sure, there are plenty of suggestions in books and magazines for making an outdoor sleeping apartment; but, nevertheless, to the one who has little time or not much ingenuity, the task looks appalling. If they could turn the whole matter over to an expert, who, for a moderate charge, would use the facilities and materials at hand, and yet produce the results desired, many would gladly do so.

The season is at hand, too, when many go in for outdoor life entirely. Many who have never camped before will camp this summer, and they will be anxious to know what to take in the way of equipment, both for health and comfort. For, if the inexperienced camper isn't properly fitted forth, she will not only be uncomfortable, and so get little pleasure out of her outing, but she will very likely get sick. And suitable clothing for camping is not always to be found in the shops, or if it is, it is apt to be expensive.

If a family is going, the mother might be glad to have help in getting ready. She may want expert advice as to what to take, not only in the way of clothing, but for the table, for the sleeping arrangements, and for camp housekeeping in general. The outing will be more enjoyable and more beneficial for all concerned, if the right things are taken. And though when she comes back, she may know what should have been included, it is better to know beforehand and take it.

So here is a field, and a field that is growing, for a woman to work in. She can become an expert outfitter for outdoor life. And the woman who loves the outdoors will thoroughly enjoy such an occupation.

DINNER STORIES

Mayor Baker, of Cleveland said at a recent Democratic banquet, apropos of a disgruntled statement: "He was disgruntled, he had a right to be disgruntled, and all our consolation and discomfort rang as hollow as the keeper's consolation to the poor shot."

"A poor shot made a dreadful exhibition of himself while rabbiting. Finally a rabbit, about five yards in front, sat down broadside to him, and he took also and careful aim. "It seemed to him he couldn't miss such a splendid broadside, and after the report he opened his eyes and said to the keeper hopefully: "Well, did I hit him?"

"The keeper scratched his ear. "I dunno, sir," he said, "as I can't exactly say you hit him, but I never seen a rabbit wince skart."

The Author's Club in New York about the poor pay of novelists. "In England," he said, "they pension their novelists. Joseph Conrad now has a pension of $10 a week. Conrad, I understand, is rather bitter about the financial failure of his books."

"A little girl in a Geneva pension once looked up from a magazine and said to Mr. Conrad: "What is the meaning of penny, sir?" "Penny," my child, the novelist answered, "means the wages of the pen."

Robert Henri, the artist, was talking at the annual convention of the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts about certain old masters. "Take, for instance," he said, "Morland. The illustrious and indolent Morland painted, in the course of forty years, 4,000 pictures. And of these—

Mr. Henri smiled his quiet and intelligent smile. "Of these," he continued, "no less than 8,000 are still extant."

A STUDY OF DESSERTS.

There are about seven types of desserts and all varieties come under one of the types. By changing the flavor one may have a variety of desserts with little study in preparation. Monotony is the one bugbear of every cook. If a certain kind of pudding is served once a month, there will never be an occasion to tire of the same.

A custard is one type which may be varied by different flavors, browning the sugar makes a delicious favoring for a custard. Melt the sugar after browning by adding the milk; stir until dissolved, then beat in the eggs and put to bake in hot water. A grating of nutmeg or vanilla is good favoring for a baked custard.

Bread puddings are another type, and may be varied in flavor by the addition of fresh or dried fruit, spices or chocolate. The foundation for all such puddings is the same: a pint of milk, two eggs, a cup of bread cut in cubes and a half cup of sugar. Stir occasionally while cooking, flavor with chocolate, a square or two, and serve with cream.

The steamed pudding is another type. This may be a simple batter and fresh fruits may be added in layers and steamed; if in cups fifteen to twenty minutes; if in a larger mold the time for steaming will be longer. The sauce for a plain pudding with fresh fruit is always cream, but when spice, chocolate and other flavors are used the following sauce is better: Take two eggs, separate the whites from the yolks, and beat well. Add a fourth of a cup of sugar and vanilla to taste. Serve uncooked, mixing the whites lightly, not to lose the air beaten in.

A dish of peaches or pears with bread and butter is a good dessert, but when one wants to place out the can of peaches and make them serve more, a dessert called Peach Snow-draft may be served, which may be served with whipped cream and the juice of the peaches. Cook together a cup of milk, two tablespoonsful of flour; cool and fold in the whites of four eggs beaten stiff. Pour over peaches or pears and serve from the dish.

"Oh, I think it's perfectly dreadful," sighed a brown-haired little woman. "I think it was pitiless to separate those women from their husbands and make them go into the boats to save while the others drowned. I don't believe those women wanted to be saved that way. I know I wouldn't. If my husband had to be drowned I'd want to be drowned with him."

"Not if you were responsible for any little children," spoke up a gray-haired mother. "You would have felt your first duty to be to your children."

"But I think they might have given the women a choice," insisted the brown-haired one. "It would only have been fair. Besides, there were women saved who never did and never will amount to anything. How many of those women, do you think, were worth such a man as W. T. Stead?"

"It is not for us to question," spoke a quiet voice. "God put his finger on that boat and his ways are inscrutable."

It Worked.

"I have had a great deal of trouble in the past year," confessed a woman of our acquaintance, the other day. "I did not mean to brood over it, but my health broke down and you know how wrong everything seems when you don't feel well."

"I grew to be one of those hysterical wrecks that can't realize what is good for itself. I not only was miserable myself, but I made everybody around me miserable. I found fault with everything, and thought the whole world was against me. I suspected everybody of talking about me, and I just about lost every friend I ever had."

"One friend stuck by me, however, and one day she made an excuse to take me on a visit to a doctor friend of hers. I'd tried about a dozen doctors already and had set them all down as quacks or worse. I guess they had all set me down as the prime nuisance."

A variation of simple lettuce salad is arranged as follows: Form a border of the best or cup-shaped leaves around the dish. Roll up the leaves and cut them into a tight roll and cut off the end with a sharp knife in narrow slices. Shake up the shreds formed by cutting in this way and heap lightly in the center.

Make a dressing from half a medium sized onion grated, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, a saltspoon each of white pepper and dry mustard. Mix all well together and stir in gradually two tablespoons each of olive oil and vinegar.

A Safe Way to Clean Hair Brushes.

To clean hair brushes without injury, have ready two basins, one three-fourths full of boiling water and the other with the same amount of cold water. In the boiling water, dissolve a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and shake the brushes up and down in the solution until they are thoroughly clean, then at once rinse well in cold water and stand the brush to dry in the air on a warm place, but not too near the fire. Of course the back of the brush must not be wet.

Good hair brushes are costly, but if properly cared for they will last for years.

Heart and Home Problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you tell what is the best coverings for a table at noon, whether we are alone or have one or more guests?

A tablecloth over a pad is in good taste for any meal, but a lunch cloth or luncheon nap is coming into more popular use at the time and is certainly convenient.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Do you know what will remove spots from mirrors? (2) What could a blonde use to bleach her hair? (3) Please give me a recipe for ice cream, and one for doughnuts.

LITTLE MAE. (1) It isn't clear what kind of spots you refer to. If you mean spots caused from defects in the quicksilver on the back of the mirror, nothing can be done for them except to have the mirror resilvered. If spots on the surface of the glass wash the mirror as you would a window or any glass surface. (2) Fry in deep fat.

TALKS with our WOMEN READERS

by Edna K. Wooler

It was the day after the tragedy that sent 1,500 souls to the bottom of the Atlantic ocean when the ship "Titanic" went down. A group of women were discussing the disaster.

"All the women and children were saved," the dispatches say," said one woman. "What a grand example of man's chivalry that is!"

"There are still some fine men in the world," agreed another. "I think it was purely the discipline of the boat that did it," declared a young business woman. "I don't believe the men passengers had much to say about it. They had to do what they were told to do. To my mind the bravest people on that boat were the officers and crew. They had the authority to enforce order. They knew, too, more than anybody else, that it was certain death to them to stay behind. But they stuck to duty and did what honorable men and officers have always been taught to do—they saved the women and children first."

"Oh, I think it's perfectly dreadful," sighed a brown-haired little woman. "I think it was pitiless to separate those women from their husbands and make them go into the boats to save while the others drowned. I don't believe those women wanted to be saved that way. voters of the state to determine whether or not they favor woman suffrage. The movement is receiving substantial support from the Equal Suffrage Association of Massachusetts, and it is claimed that New Hampshire will in all probability, be the first of the far eastern states to extend the franchise to women.

The suffrage parade in New York city May 4th gives promise of being one of the leading events of the year in the suffrage movement, and the occasion will be utilized for the purpose of effecting a more perfect organization for campaigning in the states where the proposition will be voted on this year. It is said that every state in the union will have suffrage representatives in New York on that occasion, and that more than a dozen states have already arranged to send delegations to participate in the parade. Since the various suffrage organizations of the city of New York, which will join in the enterprise, aggregate a membership of nearly 50,000, the occasion will doubtless be one of considerable moment. The "Suffrage" but will be a feature of the parade. It is a modified turban of medium size, pale blue-cream, costing thirty-nine cents, trimmed, and will be official for the occasion. A suffrage flag will also be borne in the procession. It is the national flag, except it will have only six stars, representing the six suffrage states. It will not be borne erect, but will be carried flat by a large number of marching women.

The state Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, announces that out of 200 legislative candidates in the state who have been asked by the association to lend their support to the movement to secure equal franchise in the state of Pennsylvania, only six have refused. All the others, it is claimed, were not only favorable to the proposition, but expressed their purpose to do all in their power to aid the movement. The committee also addressed letters to a large number of professional and business men throughout the state, asking for an expression of opinion in the matter of woman suffrage, and much gratification is expressed over the large percentage of favorable replies that have been received. Many of these letters, it is said, are from men prominent in public life, and they will be published later, with the writers' permission, in pamphlet form, and distributed broadcast in the state. The state organization will endeavor to have the national suffrage convention held in Philadelphia next year.

Ohio suffragists received some very substantial encouragement last week in the announced intention of the New York state political Equality Club to lend its aid to the Ohio campaign. This organization will, at its expense, send some of its most effective speakers into Ohio and also contribute literature for general distribution. It is claimed that the suffrage movement especially in the east will gain much through success in Ohio, and that in aiding the fight in that state the suffragists are contributing directly to the success of the work in their respective states. Some very substantial contributions to the campaign fund in Ohio were also reported last week, so on the whole it seems that the suffragists there have reason to be encouraged.

The suffrage movement in the southern states has received decidedly more attention this year than ever before. In both Maryland and Virginia, the question was passed on by the state legislatures. And although the measure met with defeat in both instances, a decided growth of popular sentiment favorable to equal suffrage was manifested in the proceedings of both legislatures. In Kentucky, the women won school suffrage, and in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, many local and some state conventions have been held and in all of them the organization has increased its membership and assumed a more definite shape than it has ever had before. In Arkansas petitions are being circulated broadcast over the state with a view of securing a vote this fall on a constitutional amendment extending the franchise to women. The work is being done through the Political Equality League of Little Rock, with the aid of the Woman's Clubs, the W. C. T. U. organization, and the Socialists locals of the state; if petitions bearing the required number of signatures, be filed with the Secretary of State for Arkansas by May 8th, the question will go to a vote this fall, which will give to Arkansas, the distinction of being the first southern state to pass on the question of equal franchise. If a similar proposition falls to come to a vote in the state of Texas this year, which at this time seems to be quite probable.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored mammals" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

1 C Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumps
One fowl cut in joints, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, black pepper, 2 cups flour, 3 level teaspoonful K. C. Baking Powder, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup shortening, milk or cream.

Cover the fowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove to a baking dish. Mix the 1/2 cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the broth if necessary before adding the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Rub this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this preserves a most satisfactory way of serving old fowls. Vent or lamb prepared in this manner is sure appealing when served as a stew. Try this and the 80 other delicious recipes in the K. C. Cook's Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending the enclosed certificate to the President of K. C. Baking Powder to the J. A. J. Co., Chicago.

Same Success Here As In Europe

Physicians Delighted By What New Tonic, Tona Vita, Has Done.

Tired out, run-down half sick people are not so numerous as they were a year ago. "Tona Vita" the great modern tonic has proved as successful in the United States as in Europe, and many thousands of Americans have been built up and restored to health by this medicine.

The physicians who introduced "Tona Vita" in this country are enthusiastic over the remarkable success of the medicine, and those who have been restored to health are also glad to tell what their experience has been. Mrs. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., a trained nurse for sixteen years and a graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York City, says:

"I have had no opportunity to take sufficient rest and during the past year this has told on me. My nerves began to trouble me. I have not been sleeping well and my appetite and digestion were not as they should be. I tired easily and did not have the vitality to withstand a hard day's work as formerly. This tonic Tona Vita was recommended to me and I decided to give it a test. I have been greatly benefited in health and strength by this medicine. I sincerely believe the tonic to be highly meritorious judging from my own experience."

Do you lack strength and vitality? Do you take cold easily and sleep poorly? Are you nervous and depressed? If so you are a sufferer from nervous debility and you should at once get a bottle of Tona Vita and see how quickly it will build you up. Smith Drug Co. is the agent for Tona Vita in Janesville. FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, April 22, 1872.—
Vexatious Disappointment—A storm of several hours' duration yesterday morning, gave hopes of a run of sleighing as one of the cheerful accompaniments of this vernal season, but the weather moderated shortly afterwards and we were forced to endure the chagrin of the sudden departure of the beautiful element. This is a disappointment, not only to pleasure seekers, but to rivermen who have been getting their cutters fixed up for the summer trade. To-day a bracing atmosphere prevails and it is not improbable that we may soon hear the merry jingle of silver-toned bells upon the streets.

Business—The freight and passenger traffic of the Wisconsin Railroad during the past six months has exceeded that of any like year since the road was constructed. Even the business of the war period is outdone, the cars and engines of the company being kept in constant use. Considerable rolling stock has been transferred from the town division to assist in performing the increased labor of the Wisconsin division during the winter.

Brief Items—A girl, three years old, was scalded to death in the fifth ward, last week, by spilling a kettle of hot tea on her breast.

On Saturday evening, at dark, a male motor of about sixty second year, traversed the southernmost sky, about half way between the horizon and the zenith.

A fifteen minute dog fight, on North Main street, was one of last week's closing scenes. It was brutal and bloody, but the crowd appeared to enjoy it.

Charles A. Wilmarth's funeral was held yesterday, at Mr. Hayner's residence in the fifth ward. A large assemblage of the friends of the deceased gathered at the house and accompanied the remains to the cemetery.

Beloit is pricking up its ears over the proposed change in the line of the Chicago & Northwestern road, and intimates it will do something. Whether for or against the Free Press does not state.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

BY WALT MASON

I was sitting by my gate weeping Over an unkind fate. Everything was wrong that day, for my chickens wouldn't lay, but just loafed around the coop; and old Dobbin had the croup, and the cow had gone insane —she had straggled on the brain—and the cat was having fits, and the dog, lovely
UNTIMELY OPTIMISM

was sick and sad. So I sat there shuddering, brine from these chills eyes of mine, weeping like some stricken deer in the yard was full of tears. Then an optimist came by;
he had sunshine in his eye, and he slapped me on the back till I heard my wishbone crack. And there came this cheerful chum in his beaming countenance: "Do not worry! Sing and dance!" So I slow him where he stood, with a chunk of wet elm wood.
For I've found that when I'm sore optimism is a bore, and I do not care to hear people utter words of cheer, if you murmur and console I can stand your rigmorole; if you come and help me curse I'll enjoy the little fuss. When all things are going right and I'm reeking with delight, then the optimist may come, making sunny language hum.

HIS GOOD REASON.

Bronson—Old De Swell seems more proud of his horse than of his family.
Woodson—No wonder. The horse has a pedigree.

Relative Values.
"A dinner at $25 a plate ought to be fairly good eating."
"That would depend chiefly on the relative values of the plate and the food."
"Yes!"
"Your true gourmand would rather eat $24 worth of fancy food off a $1 plate than to eat $1 worth of ordinary food off a $24 plate."

Lost the Clock.
Mrs. Bacon—My husband threw his alarm clock at a cat in the back yard last night.
Mrs. Egbert—But he never hit the cat, I'll bet.
"No, but he says he got rid of one nuisance, anyway."

Feeble Pullers.
We have a great abundance now
Of overrated stars;
Some draw about as well, methinks,
As cabbage leaf cigars.

VOICE OF DISCONTENT

De Mourn—Life is nearly all strife and deception.
De Flatt—That's true. When you aren't making a frantic attempt to coerce the cook, you've got to be jolly ing the janitor.

TODAY'S RIDDLE

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THE CAPTURE OF ST. JOE, MICHIGAN.

By A. W. MACY.

At the outbreak of the Revolutionary war St. Joseph, Michigan, was in the hands of the British. It was then a mere trading-post, and they used it as a depot of supplies and as a rallying point for their Indian allies. In the autumn of 1777 Tom Brady and sixteen other resolute residents of Cahokia, Illinois, set out to capture the post. It was garrisoned by twenty-one soldiers, but they were surprised by night and surrendered without a fight. The victors gathered up the stock of provisions, clothing, etc., and started homeward. They were pursued by a party of 300 British and Indians, who overtook them on the banks of the Calumet river, near Chicago. A battle ensued, in which two of Brady's men were killed, two wounded, twelve taken prisoners and one escaped. Next spring a party of sixty-five Cahokians, about 200 Indians and a few Spaniards re-captured the post. On account of the Spaniards being in the party the government of Spain set up a ridiculous claim to that part of the country, and for a time St. Joe threatened to become an international bone of contention.
